

Claudia Gouws (née De Villiers) completed her MA in 2008 (cum laude) and her PhD in 2013, both in History at North-West University (NWU) in South Africa. Between 2013 and 2015 (2 years) she assisted with document collection, interviews and records management in the South African Water History Archive Repository/ SAWHAR, at the NWU Vaal Triangle campus. She is a lecturer in History at North-West University since 2013. She is focused on Pre-Colonial southern African rock art, regional history, environmental issues, the Vredefort Dome World Heritage Site, and cultural and heritage tourism.